If the GPU Acceleration option is grayed out, you may need to update your graphics card drivers.. Laggy playback is probably the most frequent complaint from Premiere Pro users I recently completed a deep-dive into Adobe's Premiere Pro troubleshooting pages and their community forums, and I've compiled a list of solutions that you can try if Premiere Pro is lagging.. Adjust the setting to 1/2 or 1/4 in the bottom-right corner of the Preview Window.. Then select Delete Unused Make sure you delete unused media cache files Save Cache Files to a Secondary SSD Adobe Premiere Pro For Mac What Does Media Pending Mean Finally, it's also recommended to save your media cache files and scratch disk files to a secondary drive — preferably an internal SSD — for the best playback performance.. I was editing immediately When you edit 1080p or 4K video in Premiere Pro CC, you may experience some lag, depending on your computer and graphics processing unit.. It's important to remain realistic about your computer's hardware and specs (Especially when it comes to editing 4K video or videos with lots of effects.. It disrupts the media cache which leads to Media Pending Issue in Premiere Pro Another Solution to solve Media Pending message in Premiere Pro CC is, right click on the footage in the timeline, Click Enable, and then Right Click again and Click Enable Again which may work, if its' a single clip media pending issue in Premiere Pro.. You can also make sure High Quality Playback is disabled Click on the Wrench icon right next to the Resolution setting, and then make sure High Quality Playback is unchecked.. Updating Adobe CC apps in the middle of a project is asking for trouble (If you do update them, at least don't uninstall the previous CC versions.. If you update them, and the option is still grayed out, Premiere Pro may not support your graphics card. e828bfe731 ?????????? ?? ??
